Hongkong, April 10th, 1880.

A COMPARATIVE return of the revenue and expenditure of this Colony in 1878 and 1879 is published in the Government Gazette. The revenue for 1879 amounted to $964,094.99 and the expenditure to $926,867.86, as compared with a revenue of $947,637.72 and an expenditure of $910,523.32 in 1878. Thus it will be seen there was an increase of $16,457.27 in the revenue and of $16,344.54 Majesty's signature on the 21st February last. in the expenditure of 1879. When we come to examine the items of the revenue factory. There is, it is true, a decrease on many sources of revenue, an increase on comparatively few, and but for the Farm, nearly $78,000, there would posi-

9th April. IN BANKRUPTCY.

BEFORE Mr. JUSTICE FRANCIS. IN THE MATTER OF JACOB SCHUSTER

Mr. Jacob Schuster, of the Oriental Hotel applied to be adjudicated a bankrupt. The petitioner, in reply to questions by h Lordship, said he entered the hotel on the 5th November last, having bought the business from Messrs, Stockhausen and Rose. The price was $4.450, the whole of which had been paid. There was a bill of sale when be entered, on which about $1,800 was due, and he paid $3,500 in cash. and on the day he entered the house he executed a bill of sale to the hank as security for $1.500, which the bank paid to Mr. Stockhausen. He had a small running account at the bank, on which he drew $300 in December, and he received a note from the bank telling him he had ovordrawn his account by $77. He had drawn nothing since. His debt to the bank now was about $1,500. He had kept regular account books. and these the bank now had. The bank took possession on the 4th instant. The rent of the louse was $250, including taxes. He had paid no rent. When he took over the house the landlord agreed to theroughly repair it... He did not do so, and the bowling alley was in such a state that everyone complained they had no pleasure in playing, so that he had to relay it himself. When he took it up he found the floor was so bad that he told the landlord he must have a new floor or he would report it to the Surveyor-General. The landlord then put down a new floor. After that he never came near he had to close at twelve. He had looked at he found the daily receipts were from $20 to $10. He owed no one any money when he went into expenses. He had handed over $1,700 worth of

The petitioner was adjudicated a bankrupt, the Official Assignee to apply to the persons ressession for immediate delivery of the whole of the bankrupt's books and papers.

EXTRACTS. RAIN SONG. I love the rain, God's blossed rain The soft, sweet rain. The tender April rain.

I hand with listening ear to meet The pattering of its silver feet, Whose music sinks and swells Like chime of tiny bells, Calling the earth to wake from sleep And dainty leadets shyly peop From the messy mould So brown and old; So damp and cold, To watch the danging of the rain-

To catch the music of the rain-The tinkling of the rain. I love the rain, The Summer rain! The softly sobbing rain,

The gently falling min, That comes the parched earth to bless, And, with a human tenderness, Lifts up the drooping flowers With tendor, tearful kissos, Full of love's hopoful blissos And every blossom raises. With timid grace, A shining face,

In smiling, odorous masses; And the tall grasses In shadowy passes, Quiver and dance With pearl desked lance, Beside the blushing daisies: And all the earth rejoices, With, thankful voices. At the coming of the rain-

The gentle Summer rain. I love the rain, The Antomn rain The wild, tempestuous rain, The flercely beating rain. I list to the tramp of its mail clad feet, Over the house-top, down in the street; "I mark their track o'er forest old, As they scatter its wealth of crimson and gold.

They dash the flory crown From the maple's stately head. And the glory ripples down In a nome of fiercest red. So they tramp, tramp away, Thro' the waning Autumn day, And they patter and they dash, With a rush and a crash, Mingling with the sobbing sea, In a wild, weird molody. Ah ! I love the dashing rain-The rushing, crashing rain-
